

Home Base One

By Sean Locke-Hart

“Hey Dean, where’s the milk, I want to make cereal?” shouted Cordelia. “I don’t know, Joseph probably drank it all, you know what he is like” said Dean. This is the life of the Pinson family, until one day everything goes horribly wrong.

Today was another day, everything was going to plan, everything was normal until there was a knock at the door, that would change their lives. Mr and Mrs Pinson opened the door... and then they saw... men with guns. They stormed the house, taking Mr and Mrs Pinson as hostages as they tried to struggle out of the men’s grasp. Dean, Cordelia and Joseph all heard the screaming from their Mum and the manly commands the soldiers were giving out to each other. As the children heard the noise they managed to get the ladder down from the attic that they almost never used. If only it was enough to escape. The mysterious men found and pushed the children to the ground. The man fired their guns at them, except these were not real bullets, they were sleeping darts. After this monstrosity, the mysterious soldiers threw the sleeping family in to the back of their high tech van. On the back of this van was written, ‘Home Base One’.

Almost straight after the event, the whole family woke up. They were scared and threatened. Except from one, Joseph. Joseph was curious of why this was happening to his family, of all families! So, he poked his head through the window that lead to the van’s driver and spoke to the driver. The driver was a very intimidating soldier, “where are we going?” asked Joseph. The soldier did not answer but the family knew something was not right. The soldiers looked like they were made out of some sort of material. The whole family were thinking the same thing... robots?! No, it can’t be robots, they haven’t even been invented, it’s impossible. Obviously, it was not impossible. They arrived at their destination after a day of driving. They must have been miles and miles away from their home.

The place that the Pinson family had been taken to was a massive skyscraper. It was probably about 20000 feet in the air. It was bigger than anything they had ever seen before. There they were, standing at the double doors, being held in position, not being able to move. It looked like a trillionaires home (an evil trillionaire) who knows what this man was capable of and most of all, why did they want the Pinson family?

Then, a man, who was obviously the boss of this company or house or whatever it was appeared. You could tell he was important because he was surrounded by body guards and was wearing what looked like a very expensive suit but, that’s when they realised...

All the Pinson’s looked at each other and said their heads, ‘that is Tim Evil and standing behind him is his partner in crime, Jin Evil’. If you somehow do not know who these people are, let me explain. They are the evil organisation leaders and they take families off the street and brainwashed them in to evil soldiers. One day they will take over the entire country or even the world!

Before the Pinson family were taken, Tim and Jin Evil said, "You're Uncle betrayed us. We took him under our wing and then he double crossed us for his family, you guys. So now, you will pay". They were all so scared, they hardly know what was going on. After this, the family were put in cells, ready to be dispatched. They were all thinking that this was the end and that they were never going to see each other again. Cordelia, Dean and Joseph were all in the same cell and they had all spotted the same thing. A black figure harnessing down and as it got closer, they realised, it was their uncle.

Cordelia, Dean and Joseph had only seen their uncle once because apparently he was really busy with work. They now realised that the work may have been with Tim and Jin Evil. The children didn't worry about that for the moment, they were so happy to see him again. Louie (the uncle) started to take some tools out of his pockets and then the cell door swung open. They were out. They all gave each other a massive hug. Louie said, "Let's get out of here and I will explain everything". The children nodded their heads and then Cordelia whispered, "what about Mum and Dad"? Louie did not answer but smiled. Louie put them all in a harness and they slowly rose up. As they raised upwards and got out of the 30 storey building, they saw their parents standing there. They were there, waiting for their children to come. They all have each other the biggest hugs they could ever think of but now they had to think... how they could stop the evil twins...
